Following the successful progress of the England Programme over the past year, it has been decided to include Transition players within the programme; a decision made during a recent review.

With the steady growth of the England ExCell structures supporting the improved England Core Programme, the England staff are keen to ensure that English judoka have the opportunity to continue their development on the Performance pathway. This will be a gradual process, with the first step being the inclusion of Transition players (those in their first year out of Juniors).

Transition players will be included in England Core and England ExCell training. We would hope to develop upon this to include further opportunities in the future.

The identification policy can be found on the England website at:
