INTRODUCING...
buddle.

Your place to experience the wonders of learning, sport and physical activity.

We provide free learning and support resources that help to strengthen skills and community engagement, offering a range of physical activities, and the opportunity for each and every one to build up because we're here to be your part family.

Combat Club Collaboration – Working Together in Safeguarding

As part of the Combat Club initiative, British Judo, British Fencing and British Wrestling have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) that establishes a framework for collaboration to develop a more resilient, efficient, and best practice approach to safeguarding.

British Judo Announces New Partnership with Buddle.

British Judo is excited to announce that we've been selected as a hub partner for Sport England's Buddle programme.

Over the next two years, British Judo and Buddle will be working together to provide a tailored package of support to meet the needs of judo clubs and the people who work hard to run them.

USEFUL RESOURCES

How to Spread Festive Kindness

The festive season can amplify feelings of loneliness, grief, and financial stress, and a simple act of kindness reminds people they are cared for and not alone.

Spreading human kindness also shifts the focus from commercialism and stress back to the core values of the season, which are about compassion, connection, and hope. This creates a positive ripple effect throughout our homes, workplaces and communities.

Child Abuse - NSPCC

The NSPCC has published a news story highlighting the risks some children face at home during the Christmas holidays, and how Childline can support them.

The story explores findings from a YouGov survey examining UK adults' perceptions of the risks children may face over Christmas.
